Solitaire

Fill the board leaving empty the middle hole.

The objective of this game is remove to the board all pieces, one by one, except the last piece which should stay in the middle of the board.

Each movement of this game consists of passing a part over another adjacent one in order to go to the next house (which must be empty). Then the piece which jumped is removed from the board.

This movement is the same as the capture of the drafts, but in solitary only are allowed vertical jumps (up and down) and horizontal (to the right and left).
